

Distribution of milch cow among the beneficiaries in East Gokulpur GP

Specific programmes have been taken to make the state self-dependent in milk production:

ARDD Minister

Animal rearing plays supporting role in the development of rural economy. If animal rearing is done with proper planning, then economic foundation of people of rural area will be strengthened. The present state government is taking plans one after another keeping this thing in mind, enunciated Animal Resources Development Department Minister Bhagaban Chandra Das as the Chief Guest in milch cow distribution programme to the beneficiaries of East Gokulpur Gram Panchayat of Bishalgarh block yesterday. He said, the present state government has taken specific programmes to make the state self-dependent in milk production along with other development programmes.

ARDD Minister said, the government aims to make the people living in rural areas self-reliant through dairy production. He said, no proper plans were taken in the past to make the state self-dependent in different sectors including milk production. The present government believes in action and not just in words. Taking plan alone is not going to work. Implementation of plan is important.

Sabhadhipati of Sepahijala Zilla Parishad Supriya Das Datta and Chairman of Tripura Khadi Board Rajiv Bhattacharjee also spoke on the occasion. President of Agriculture Related Standing Committee of Sepahijala Zilla Parishad Biswajit Das and Chairman of Bishalgarh Panchayat Samiti Chanda Debbarma were present in the programme as special guest. Milch cows were distributed to 7 beneficiaries at the cost of 7 lakh rupees in the programme with the initiative of Animal Resources development department and with the financial assistance of Sepahijala Zilla Parishad.
