

State government implementing different schemes for women's socio-economic development: Social Welfare Minister

The state government is implementing different schemes for the socio-economic development of women. Women must prepare themselves mentally to become self-reliant. They must have the determination to stand on their own feet. The state government is always standing by women. Social Welfare and Social Education Minister Tinku Roy said this on 18th August, while inaugurating a program for distributing sewing machines to women at Agartala Muktaadhara Auditorium. The event was organized by the Tripura State Commission for women with the support of TNGCL.

Minister Tinku Roy stated that the state government is working to make women self-reliant through the formation of self-help groups. Referring to the leadership of women in different fields across the state and the country, he expressed hope that in the coming days, the women of Tripura will become self-dependent. At this event, 120 women from different parts of the state were given sewing machines. The minister added that this initiative has been taken to make women financially independent. The event was also attended by Women's Commission Chairperson Jharna Debbarma, Vice Chairperson Madhumita Choudhury, and TNGCL Managing Director Pralay Patra, among others.
