One year residential program in Software Programming in Bengaluru

Tribal Welfare Department, Government of Tripura in collaboration with a Bengaluru based NGONavgurukul(an NGO working towards the financial empowerment of students from under privileged sections of society) is providing a 1-year residential program in Software Programming this year for tribal girl students who have passed class 10th examination. The program aims to enable the students to secure their careers. After completion of online screening test and interviews, first batch of students from different districts are being sent to Navgurukul for 1 year fully funded skill learning and recruitment program in software engineering. Out of 50 eligible candidates including non STs, 4 ST candidates have given their consent for taking the course. The total expenditure of students including their fooding, lodging and education for 1 year course will be borne by Navgurukul Foundation. Tribal Welfare Department will provide one time assistance for round trip travel expenses of the students. After the completion of the program, students may get placement opportunity in organisations like MindTree, Thought Works, Unacademy etc. Tribal Welfare Department, Government of Tripura aims to continue the program in coming years. This was informed by Tribal Welfare Department Director L.T Darlong in a Press Release.
