Deputy CM inaugurates mobile planetarium at Bishramganj HS School
Curiosity will arise among the students regarding the mobile planetarium and the space: Deputy CM

Initiative has been taken to generate curiosity about science among the students. The government has taken different programs to attract the students towards science. Mobile Planetariums are being arranged in all the districts of the state to generate curiosity among the students about space, enunciated Deputy Chief Minister Jishnu Dev Varma after inaugurating the mobile planetarium at Bishramganj Higher Secondary School yesterday. It is to be noted that this planetarium will be exhibited in different schools of the district. This mobile planetarium will prove to be helpful for students to attain knowledge about space, different planets, sub-planets and galaxy. This mobile planetarium was built at the cost of 8 lakh rupees.

The Deputy Chief Minister also said, the present era is Science era, which is why the students also must have knowledge of science. He said, the government has taken different steps to develop the education sector in the state. Importance has been given on expansion of quality education in remote areas. Others present in the inaugural programme were Bishalgarh SDM Binoy Bhushan Das, Deputy Secretary of the department B. Chakraborty. The programme was presided over by Headmaster of the School Ajit Das.
