National Law University will be established in its own land: Education Minister

The National Law University will be established in the state in its own land of the Education Department. In this case, there is no room for any kind of confusion or problem for students or parents. Students currently studying in TIT will not have any problem. Students will attend their classes in their designated areas until the law university building is completed. Education Minister Ratan Lal Nath said this in a press conference at the Secretariat yesterday.

In the press conference, the Education Minister said that the current state government has taken various development plans to build the State as an Educational Hub. Initiative has been taken to build National Law University in the designated area of Education Department at TIT campus in Narsingarh. He also said that the state budget also has funds to build the National Law University. Director of Higher Education Department N.C Sharma was present at the press conference.
