Distribution of walking aids and other support appliance to divyangjans in Gomati district as part of Prati Ghare Sushason campaign

Prati Ghare Sushason campaign has been launched in the state to bring the poorest of the poor under development programmes. This programme has been launched to commemorate the birthday of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. This campaign will continue till November 30. Education Minister Ratan Lal Nath said this while inaugurating the distribution of walking aids among the Divyangjans of Gomati district at Udaipur Rajarshi Hall yesterday. He said that the central government has announced the new National Education Policy. In this new National Education Policy various facilities have been extended from pre-primary education to higher education.

Sahakari Sabhadhipati of Gomati Zilla Parishad Deblal Debroy presided over the programme. MLA Biplab Kumar Ghosh, social worker Abhishek Debroy, Tripura Women Commission member Moushomi Das among others spoke at the programme. Deputy Director of Social Welfare and Social Education Department Sanjit Rupini gave the welcome address. At the programme, walking aids were distributed among 21 Divyangjans of the district.
