

Tripura Photo Journalists Association Annual General Meeting

Government is working with humanitarian approach for the welfare of media: CM

The present government is media friendly. The government is working with a humanitarian approach for the welfare of the media including journalist. Chief Minister Prof. (Dr.) ManikSaha said this while inaugurating the Annual General Meeting of Tripura PhotoJournalists Association at Agartala Press Club on 24th September, 2022. Chief Minister said that the media is the mirror of society. Photojournalists have also made significant contributions in changing society. For the welfare of the people of the state, it is also necessary to have a good relationship between the media and the government. Chief Minister said that the present state government is working by maintaining transparency in various fields including providing jobs. As a result, people's trust in the government is also increasing. The present government is working with confidence in the coexistence of peace and harmony. The government will not tolerate any kind of disorder in the state.

Chief Minister said that the present government has already implemented various schemes for the welfare of journalist, starting from insurance and increasing pension. Journalists did not have to do any movement for this because the current government is working with the policy of solving the problem before any agitation. The government will continue to work for the welfare of journalists.

At the programme, Agartala Press Club Secretary Pranab Sarkar said that Tripura Photo Journalists Association is the only organization of photojournalists in the state. This organization works for the welfare of photojournalists. Due to the positive attitude of the current government, many problems of journalists in the state have been resolved quickly. Tripura Photo Journalists Association Secretary, RamakantDey and President Ranjan Roy also spoke at the programme.
