Prati Ghare Sushason campaign in Jirania Block

The aim of the government is to deliver welfare schemes benefit to the last person of the society: Minister of Information and Cultural Affairs

Prati Ghare Sushason campaign is held to provide access to government schemes and services to the people of the state. The aim of the government is to provide access to schemes designed for public welfare to the last person. Information and Cultural Affairs Minister Sushanta Chowdhury said this while inaugurating the Jirania block-level camp on Prati Ghare Sushason yesterday. Minister said at the programme that the purpose of organizing such camps is to find out whether the people have any difficulties. The government is responsible for the welfare of all sections of the people irrespective of party affiliation. He said that the government has increased the social pension by 2 thousand rupees as per its promise. It has been decided to launch the Chief Minister's Social Assistance Scheme to provide social pension to 30,000 people in the states within a few days. Under Jal Jeevan Mission, the work of connecting drinking water to houses through pipeline is being done in mission mode.

Chairman of Jirania Panchayat Samiti Manju Das, Vice Chairman Pritam Debnath, Jirania Sub-Divisional Magistrate Jiban Krishna Acharya were present at the inauguration of the block-level camp. Anurag Sen, BDO of Jirania Block, gave the welcome address at the programme. A loan of Rs 5 lakh has been given to the members of 3 self-help groups from Tripura Rural Livelihood Mission. Fishing gear for 7 self help group members, hearing aids for 7 elderly women and walking aids for 8 people from social welfare and social education department were given. In addition, 4 farmers who have received subsidized paddy weeders, pumpset, battery spares, e-labor cards have been given to 2 construction workers. In the camp, 80 families were assisted in rearing chickens under the Mukhyamantri Swanirbhar Yojana. 2 schools were given sports equipment by the sports department.
