Quality fish seed ranching in River Manu for conservation under PMMSY

As a part of Prati Ghare Sushason campaign, a ranching programme of 1.08 numbers of Indian Major Carp fingerlings under Pradhan Mantri Matsya Sampada Yojana (PMMSY) was organized today at River Manu as a strategic part for conservation and sustainability of aquatic animals in the rural water bodies. The ranching programme was funded by National Fish Development Board (NFDB) and implemented by office of the Superintendent of Fisheries, Chailengta, TTAADC. The programme was graced by MLA and Manu BAC Chairman Diba Chandra Hranghawl, MDC of TTAADC Sanjoy Das, Deputy Director of Fisheries, Dhalai district Tikendrajit Jamatia and Longtharai Valley Superintendent of Fisheries Subir Debbarma. Field functionaries, social workers and locals were present during the programme.
